Waiting costs money. Identify your SG/XG installations now and start the migration to the XGS series.

Sophos SG in action

The Sophos SG series is no longer state of the art. To secure customer networks in the long term, it is worth switching to the current Sophos XGS series. Thanks to the official replacement promo, your customers can benefit from attractive conditions.

Sophos XG in action

The XG series is increasingly reaching its limits. Both technically and in terms of support. Switching to XGS is not only sensible, but highly recommended. Existing customers can also upgrade cost-effectively via the global trade-in promo at.

Sophos XGS in action

Your customer is already using the current platform: that's a plus. However, there is the option of switching to the more powerful 8 series. This may make sense for certain application scenarios. Our Sophos experts will be happy to advise you.

No Sophos Firewall in use

Ideal for a changeover: Thanks to the current promo, new customers and users of third-party solutions benefit from attractive prices for the XGS series.
